

PARTY TIME:

Mrs. Norman Littell gave a small luncheon at the Sulgrave Club on Monday primarily to bring two old friends together. They are Mrs. J. H. Holloway, wife of the new South African Ambassador, and Senhora de Esteves Fernandes, wife of the Portuguese Ambassador, whose friendship has extended over a period of 15 years. They first met in South Africa when Ambassador Fernandes was a young diplomat and his son, now a student at Harvard, was a baby.

Mrs. Littell had been first to the opening of the Supreme Court, to which she and her husband are both admitted to practice.

Mrs. Charles F. Cabell, wife of the Deputy Director General of Central Intelligence, had been to two meetings already. As the wife of a lieutenant general in the Air Force she still keeps her service affiliations.
